Long a center of commerce, industry, and culture, London continues to be a magnet for creative and dynamic individuals. Nothing typifies this diversity and verve better than the capital's many incredible living spaces.

This book takes you up-close and personal with interiors unparalleled anywhere in the world. Ranging from stately classical to forward-looking style, these images take us on tour of some of the capital's most noteworthy residences. Although widely different, they all have that undefinable London attitude ? a mixture of comfort and glamour that's hard to replicate. The typical English eccentricity is seen in unusual choices of materials ? and some pretty interesting juxtapositions. This lavishly illustrated book captures the luxury of unique interiors designed by highly regarded interior designers like Tara Bernerd, Rabih Hage, David Carter, Stephen Ryan, Veere Grenney and last not least Geraldine Apponyi and Monika Apponyi ? renowned interior designers and the editors of this book.

You will be fascinated by the variety of magnificent and unique interiors that can be found in this breathtaking city.
